Mr. Whit[illegible] 16, and Rev. Mr. [illegible] The City Clerk married [illegible] couples.

Mr. C. A. Staples returned to Portland, Monday, from [illegible] where he left Mr. Zeri Thompson [illegible] suffering from concussion of the brain and injury to the spinal cord. He has [illegible] [illegible] but the [illegible] are hopeful that the [illegible] injury was at first supposed. He was taken up [illegible] in apparently dying condition at [illegible] physician [illegible] his injuries will not prove fatal. His wife and brother are with him. Mr. Thompson has fully recovered his consciousness. No bones were broken.

The total shipments of lumber from Portland to the Argentine Republic and Uruguay for the year 1887 were 43,587,630 feet. Of this 37,[illegible] feet was spruce, 3,[illegible] feet was pine, and [illegible] feet was of various kinds, mostly hard wood. The great bulk of this lumber went to ports in the Argentine Republic, mainly to Buenos Ayres. In all 40,7[illegible] feet, while to ports in Uruguay only 2,847,078 feet was exported. This lumber trade gave employment to [illegible] vessels, the largest single cargo being that by the ship Euphemia, 1,118,25[illegible] feet, in July last. The value of these shipments were about $760,000.

Wednesday afternoon the story and a half house, stable, and barn [illegible] at Town House Corner, Cape Elizabeth, owned by Benjamin C. Miles, were burned. The premises had been unoccupied by a family since December 2[illegible]th, at which date Mr. Miles moved to Portland for the winter. There were a few articles of furniture in the house, and some hay and grain in the stable. [illegible] were burned as well as several hundred [illegible] in the [illegible]. The origin of the fire is unknown. The buildings were insured for $2,000; the loss is estimated at about $2,[illegible].

Hancock

F. G. Arey, of Bucksport, claims that he has the first lamp and chimney for kerosene that was sold in that town. Both lamp and chimney are still in use.

Thursday morning, December 29, says the Record, the scene at Schoodic Head was grand. The Spouting Horn was not in good order, but the waves were rolling in and breaking upon the ledges, throwing the spray high in the air. The whole surface of the cove was a mass of seething foam, receding at times to show the cruel and jagged points of the rocks. The foam looked soft as carded wool, but hid untold dangers to the unfortunate mariner who might be cast upon its fleecy bosom.

The Maine Central Railroad Company have just completed some very marked improvements in Ellsworth. An awning has been built on the platform 235 feet in length, the freight house has been moved eastwardly 120 feet, and has been altered and improved in various ways, and the interior of the ladies' waiting room has been renovated by paint and otherwise, so that it now presents a very attractive appearance. On the whole the station and other appurtenances in this city, are now first-class throughout, and the Company is deserving of much praise for the pains they have taken and the money they have expended to make them so.

Kennebec

A year ago last Tuesday it had cost a certain Kennebec Ice company $12,000 for scraping during that season, while this season, up to last Tuesday, it hadn't cost them a single cent.

The second forge at the new Augusta building stone sheds was started Wednesday. Between twenty and thirty men were busily at work on the stone, while one blacksmith was working like a hero to keep their tools sharp. The shed has been completed with but few little exceptions. A third forge is in process of erection.

Sagadahoc

Speaking of the story of coal and other specimens being found at Georgetown, the Portland Advertiser says, these statements indicate that at least some interesting geological specimens are to be found on the island at the mouth of the Kennebec, but none except the most sanguine dares believe that mineral deposits of any extent are there. Bath may realize her dream of becoming the Chester of the Northeast, but it is too much to hope that she has in her front yard a future supply of coal and iron for her future shipyards.

Somerset

Miss Hattie King, of Skowhegan, fell on the street, Wednesday morning. She was unable to speak, and a physician was sent for and she was taken to her boarding place where she lies in a very critical condition. In the afternoon she was much worse. One side seems to be partially paralyzed. Miss King has a great many friends who will be sorry to learn this.

The people of Somerset Mills are somewhat exercised over the report that extensive mills are to be erected there. The report arose from the fact that the well known firm of Lawrence, Phillips & Co. have recently acquired either by purchase or bond, control of considerable real estate near their mill. We understand that this property secured is for the erection of a large pulp mill for the manufacture of spruce pulp by the new process, if certain conditions are favorable. The same may lead to a paper mill in connection with the pulp mill. The outside parties who are to be interested in the venture will visit the place soon with engineers, whose report will decide in a great measure what is to be done.

The lumbermen complain on account of lack of snow. They report from four to six inches in the woods at present, but with that, [illegible] on rough road it takes a double team to draw their loads.

Judge L. A. Emery, of Ellsworth, passed through here Friday, on his way from Machias, where he has been holding court for the past week.

A very pleasant surprise party, composed of the young ladies and gentlemen of Cherryfield, made an unceremonious call on Dr. Nichols, of Harrington, last Thursday evening, where they were greeted in his cordial way and in due time brought in close communion with his famous larder. An enjoyable time was reported.

The schools here are in a flourishing condition under the able management of W. H. Dresser. One hundred and six pupils are now registered and so large is the attendance that there has been some talk of opening a grammar school grade.

Old Town Letter

[Regular Correspondence of Whig and Courier.]

Installation of officers, elect, of Old Town Council, No. 17[illegible], R. A. occurred Tuesday evening and the officers for the ensuing year are, Regent, C. G. Davis; Vice Regent, George P. Lockwood; Orator, J. C. Nelson; Secretary, H. G. Dresser; Collector, L. W. Conant; Treasurer, John Farrell; Chaplain, B. F. Smart; Guide, J. W. Knox; Warden, E. P. Austin; Sentry, A. A. Jordan. Regent, retiring, A. H. Brown was presented with an elegant K. A. watch charm by brother Conant in behalf of the Council, in the following words: Of the many worthy objects of our ambition, there are few perhaps more worthy than that of securing and retaining the esteem of your fellowmen. There is no better passport anywhere than respect. Show us the man who cares nothing for what his acquaintances may say or think of him, whether they regard him as kind, or unobliging, honest or dishonest, right or wrong, and we mark him at once as essentially selfish; and we may safely assume that he enjoys as little happiness himself as he confers upon others. But the man who labors for others, putting self to the rear, becomes, in a greater or less degree, a philanthropist. Brother Brown, let not your modesty take affright when we class you among the philanthropists. Within our constantly increasing circle you have labored with us and for us, bearing in your position as Regent the brunt of the fight; and now, upon retiring from the chair after a year of well spent effort, we wish to express our thanks for the good you have done and the pleasure we have enjoyed. It is not in our province to bestow, nor your desire to receive, reward for your labors; but we hold here a simple token of love and esteem which we would be happy to have you accept. Retain it as a lasting memento of the many links which bind us together. We hope and believe that as Past Regent your interest in our order will be as active as ever, and that our friendship and regard will but mellow and grow warmer as time goes on. Brother Brown accepted briefly and appropriately.

Our genial scaler, Ed Weeks, is down from the regions of the Wessatiook (?) and reports two and a half feet of snow there and lumbermen doing good business.

Lewis H. Norwood, late drug clerk with H. M. Burnham, and John Hall will go to Montana soon. Mr. Norwood, we understand, is to engage in the drug business. We wish him the best of success, as also Mr. Hall in whatever occupation he engages.

Saturday afternoon last, as Mrs. V. O. Brown was returning home after a call at Mrs. David Lat[illegible]brook's, it being very slippery, when near home she fell, sustaining a very bad fracture of the left wrist. Dr. [illegible] attended.

The following officers of [illegible] Post were installed Saturday evening [illegible] Z. D. Stearns, C.; L. M. Arey, V. C.; C. W. Coulliard, J. V. C.; F. H. Shaw, Chap.; H. W. Pickard, S. Following the installation, a fine supper was served to the members of the Post.

F. G. Rogers has purchased and placed in his store the large safe formerly used by John Crosby, Esq., in the brick store.

The trustees of the Academy have received from the State Treasurer [illegible] hundred dollars appropriated by the last legislature in aid of the school. The winter term of the school is progressing finely and proving very satisfactory to those interested. The first lecture in the Academy course was delivered Thursday evening by [illegible] D. H. Tribou of the United States Navy. Owing to the severity of the weather the audience was smaller than it would otherwise have been. The lecture was drawn from Mr. Tribou's experiences during a three years cruise and was replete with information that held the closest attention of the audience. Mr. Tribou was a former principal of the Academy, and kindly gave his lecture in aid of the school. The second in the course occurs Thursday evening, Jan. 26 by Hon. S. W. Matthews.

The officers of Victory Council, U. [illegible] were publicly installed Friday evening. Following the installation the members and their friends enjoyed an oyster supper. Tuesday evening some of the members of the Council paid a visit to the Bangor Lodge.

Owing to trouble in the school at Arey's Corner, the Supervisor of Schools was called in Monday. The school is now running smoothly.

Dr. Nason was called to Winterport, Wednesday, to attend Dr. Atwood who was suffering from gastritis.

The thermometer Thursday morning ranged from 8° to 10° below zero—sufficiently cold to satisfy the most frigid.

Deputy Sheriff Coulliard is quite sick—the result of a cold.

The remains of John Goodell, Esq., a former resident of this town, were interred in Locust Grove Cemetery Thursday.

F. E. Pond is filling his ice house with clear ice sixteen inches thick, cut on the Paper mill pond.

Mrs. B. F. Richards who has been living with B. C. Wing for the past five years, died Wednesday, at the advanced age of ninety five years. Her remains will be taken to Wayne Saturday, for interment.

Decision in Law

The following decision in law has been received by Charles P. Sweet, Esq., Clerk of the Eastern Law District:

PISCATAQUIS COUNTY.

Ebenezer Cleaves vs. Peleg Washbur[n].
"Exceptions overruled." "Nonsuit confirmed."

Rescript, per Curiam—The plaintiff's story is substantially as follows: The defendant was the owner of a farm, with its stock and other plant. In the spring of 1884 as he stated to plaintiff, he had made a contract with one Hunt, in relation to this property. By the terms of this contract, Hunt was to take his family on the farm, operate and care for the farm, stock and crops, and board the defendant in his family, all till May 1, 1885. He was also to cut wood for the defendant to the amount of $25, and also pay the cash and highway tax. He was to receive from the defendant the income of the farm—the use of the cow, oxen and sheep, the grain raised, the wool and lambs of the next year. The hay was to be fed to the stock on the place.

Soon after the first of October Hunt left the farm and abandoned the contract. About the 18th of October the defendant came to the plaintiff, stated to him the trade with Hunt, and that Hunt had left, and asked him to take Hunt's place, "step into Hunt's shoes." The plaintiff agreed to do so, except as to the cash tax, which defendant agreed to pay himself. The plaintiff thereupon moved upon the farm with his family and remained there till May 1, 1885. He performed his part of the contract, except that he did not pay all the highway tax, and has never paid it all. While living there, he bought of the defendant some stumpage of cedar, and other lumber, which he did not, and has not paid for.

When the time was up, May 1, 1885, the parties had no settlement, though the plaintiff says he was ready to settle and pay any balance. The plaintiff after failing to get a settlement undertook to remove from the farm, the grain, the heifer (the product of the cow), and the wool and the lambs of that spring, but was prevented by the defendant who claimed there was a balance due him. The plaintiff thereupon brought this action of trover.

As to these articles, the question is as to title. The plaintiff's counsel claims, that the title to the grain vested in the plaintiff at once, at the time of the trade, and that the heifer, lambs, and wool became his at once upon their coming into existence. If this were so, he could at once have removed them, and abandoned his duty, leaving the defendant only a right of action. It seems clear to us, that such was not the intention. Hunt evidently did not so understand it, for he left the grain and heifer behind him. The plaintiff did not think so at first for he says he sought a settlement, and was willing to pay any balance, and he only undertook to remove the property, after a failure to settle. His possession was only that of a bailee, as tenant, or farm bailiff. There is no evidence of any delivery.

The title to personal property in a trade does not pass until the parties intend it shall pass. It may sometimes be difficult to ascertain the intention, but when ascertained, it governs. We think it very clear from the conversations and circumstances detailed by the plaintiff, that the intention of the parties was, that the plaintiff should first earn the property as the price of his services, and by fully rendering the promised consideration, and should be entitled to the ownership of the property only after he had fully performed his part of the contract. No other intention would be consistent with the usual course of farm management. We do not think the jury could have found such an intention as the plaintiff now claims. If they had, the verdict must have been set aside as against evidence.

Therefore for the plaintiff to show that the title had completely passed from the defendant to himself, he must show a complete performance of the agreement on his part. Nothing less than a complete finished performance will avail him. The omission of a day, or a dollar in that performance will prevent the title passing. Brown v. Haynes, 52 Me. 578.

Equity and good conscience might require the plaintiff to also pay for the stumpage before being allowed the articles. It seems probable that the parties understood that the stumpage matter modified the original agreement and became incorporated into it instead of being an independent agreement. But passing the matter of the stumpage, the plaintiff admits he did not perform all his original agreement. He has not paid all the highway tax which was for him to pay, and he shows no reason for his omission. It is true only a small portion was unpaid, but as the plaintiff relies upon a strict legal title he must show a strict performance. This he has not done. [illegible] was excuse for the [illegible]. It was in the highway and the defendant [illegible] [illegible]

The first item the wood is stricken out.

We think the plaintiff has mistaken his remedy, and that the nonsuit was properly ordered. He can bring an action in the nature of assumpsit if he desires to get full justice against the defendant.

WHAT "PECULIAR" MEANS
Applied to Hood's Sarsaparilla the word Peculiar is of great importance. It means that Hood's Sarsaparilla differs from the preparations in many vital points which make it a thoroughly honest and reliable medicine. It is peculiar in a strictly medicinal sense, first, in the combination of remedial agents used; second, in the proportion in which they are prepared; third in the process by which the active curative properties of the medicine are secured. Study these points well. They are vital ones. They make Hood's Sarsaparilla Peculiar in its curative powers, accomplishes wonderful cures hitherto unknown, and which give to Hood's Sarsaparilla a clear right to the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Whig and Courier.

BOUTELLE & BURR, PROPRIETORS.

C. A. BOUTELLE, Editor.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle & Burr, and communications intended for publication should be addressed: "Editor of Whig and Courier."

SATURDAY, JANUARY 14, 1888.

The Indiana Democrats do not seem to ake kindly to the President's alleged preference for Senator Voorhees as a Vice Presidential candidate, having formally placed Gov. Gray in the field as their choice for a second place on the ticket.

riday the Mississippi Legislature assed a resolution indorsing the nomination of Lamar and voted to extend an invitation to Jeff Davis to visit Jackson and ddress both houses some time during the ession. The resolution and invitation go ll together.

n the gubernatorial field, in addition to names of Mr. Burleigh and Gov. Marble, some of the papers in the western part f the State mention that of ex-Attorney General Henry B. Cleaves, and the Belfast ournal puts forward with high commendation that of Representative I. C. Libby, f Burnham, the well known dealer in cattle and farm products.

he first edition of the Frye pamphlet, sued a few days ago by the Home Market Club, has been entirely exhausted, in 10,000 copies. The present demand for opies of this pamphlet is enormous, and e club has now on file orders for over 000 copies from all sections of the ountry. There is a large inquiry from e South, New York State and the State Maine. The second edition of 10,000 pies was issued on Wednesday, to be llowed immediately by other editions il the demand is fully supplied.

enator Voorhees has finally decided not go to Indianapolis and defend the Democratic tally-sheet forgers who are to be ed in that city in a few days, says the hiladelphia Press. The criticism excited his avowed purpose of trying to shield ese criminals is given as the cause of his ange of mind. So the country can congratulate itself that it is to be spared the andal of seeing a United States Senator gaged in defending a party of rogues of hose guilt there is no doubt in the public ind. As hide-bound a partisan as Senator Voorhees has evidently been taught hat there is a limit beyond which even a emocrat must not go in sustaining fraud d forgery on the ballot-box. This is a elded advance and a clear proof of the ower of public opinion when once de known.

t is about time for the silly New York rald to turn loose the animals in Central rk, pull down the big Brooklyn Bridge, fire to the Statue of Liberty, reduce its rice to one cent or denounce President Cleveland as a heretic. The Herald has erformed no truly idiotic feat for something like two months.—New York World.

Oh! yes it has. Within a very few days e Herald eulogized L. Q. C. Lamar as a entleman who has worthily won the "esteem and confidence" of the American people. In view of Mr. Lamar's well known record it would not be easy to nagine a more "idiotic feat" than the Herald's sickening gush over this man who as a traitor to his country, simply because he is selected by Grover Cleveland r a position on the Supreme bench and or no other reason, for even the Herald not foolish enough to pretend that amar possesses legal attainments worth king of.

he Kennebec Journal says: Congressman Boutelle, of the Penobscot district, done well to introduce a resolution in e House of Representatives, calling upon e Secretary of War to inform the House hether it is true that the flags, standards and trophies captured from enemies of the United States have been removed from the ace where they were displayed as required by law, and have since been concealed from the public. Mr. Boutelle intends to demand for what reason these ags and trophies have been withdrawn, d by whose authority. Doubtless he ill be accused of raising the "bloody hirt." But no true-hearted American will deny that those who fought for the Union have a right to demand this information. f anybody is to be blamed they should be those who stirred bloody memories by reaking the law of the land in order to t out of sight the Nation's patriotic emblems.

rom first to last there is a manifest intention to accord not the least credit to nything that the Administration has done the way of reforming the civil service the nation.

n the course of a long editorial on enator Hale's speech the Boston Herald makes use of the language quoted above. redit is usually accorded where credit is due. President Cleveland has made a foot ball of civil service reform from the time f his inauguration up to the present day. was a real good campaign cry in 1884 d was worked for all it was worth, Mr. Cleveland being ready to promise anything and everything that was asked in the way of reform, but the bubble has burst, and after three years of Cleveland rule he tands before the public stripped of the alse pretense with which he cheated the eople, a typical machine Democrat who worthily represented by the Gorman ing in Maryland and Col. Fellows, Tweed's old chum, in New York. Organs ke the Herald may misrepresent facts nd lie to their heart's content, but they n't make the reform cry work this year. is very, very dead.

The tone of the interview with ex-Secretary Lincoln concerning the rebel battle flags, if this is correctly reported, will occasion some surprise. "Rags" they may be, but they were captured at the sacrifice of thousands of loyal lives, and if Mr. Lincoln, or anyone else, is in any doubt as to the feeling of the old veterans on the subject of these trophies of many a hard fought battle, let him recall the storm of indignation that went up when it was proposed to return them to the South by a President so devoid of all patriotic instinct that he would barter these blood stained emblems of treason for mere political prestige. The proper disposition of these "rags" was considered of sufficient importance for Congressional action and the law enacted for their safe preservation is clear and emphatic. Whether or not this law has been properly regarded is the object of Mr. Boutelle's resolution which is just now being complimented with the severe displeasure of Administration organs like the Boston Herald. That paper remarks that Mr. Boutelle "is going to get at the whole story about the battle flags this time, and he may build better than he knows in so doing," but we can assure our Mugwump contemporary that it need borrow no trouble on that score as the "whole story" is just what is wanted.

The Albany Journal says the chances are that Chauncey M. Depew will head the Empire State delegation to the Chicago Republican Convention, and put Mr. Blaine in nomination for the Presidency.

Not Fit for the Supreme Bench.

[From The Independent, Jan. 5.]

We most heartily agree with the Tribune that Mr. Lamar is not fit for the high office of Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. We do not believe that the constituents of a single Republican Senator in Congress would approve of the confirmation of Mr. Lamar.

We do not believe that five intelligent Republicans in a hundred, if the whole country could be counted, would to-day favor Mr. Lamar's confirmation.

We do not believe, as a precedent, it would be either wise or safe to place Mr. Lamar on the Supreme Court bench of this Government. It would dishonor a million dead soldiers who laid down their lives to conquer Jeff Davis, Lamar and others in their treasonable efforts to destroy the Constitution and to overthrow the Government.

We do not believe that the rank and file of the Democratic party at the North, the East or the West would, for an instant, if allowed to give their private views, declare it to be either wise or safe to make an "unrepentant secessionist" like Lamar a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

We do not believe in rewarding any such unsafe man with honors, as is proposed in the case of Mr. Lamar, who has violated his solemn oath to support the Constitution of his country, who has since the war closed offered to defend publicly the course of Jeff Davis whenever an occasion may require it; who has publicly denounced Abraham Lincoln, its martyred President, and who did what he could to destroy our Government.

We do not believe it would be wise or best now or hereafter to "hoist the red flag" or show an unforgiving spirit to those who confess their mistakes or wrong doing; but Mr. Lamar has not yet proved himself to be the sort of man who ever will squarely confess any sorrow for the violation of his solemn oaths or for his conspicuous treason during the war.

We do not believe it would look well in history to make any man a judge to interpret our laws who boldly denounced President Lincoln, the man who kept his oath, defended the Constitution, and suppressed the most wicked rebellion the world ever witnessed.

We do not believe Mr. Lamar's example in public life is a good one for any true patriot to follow, or that the young men of the Army and Navy would be encouraged by it to do their duty in case of another rebellion.

We do not believe that any bank cashier who had, in defiance of our laws, robbed his bank and fled to Canada should, even on return of his booty, with confession, be promoted to the Presidency of that institution. Forgive him we may, if penitent, but we would not tempt him or give him another chance, as President, for wrong doing.

We do not believe that a man who, like Mr. Lamar, is charged with "being identified with the repudiation schemes of the State of Mississippi" or any other State, is a fit man to be trusted, as a Judge, with the interpretation of laws in regard to violated contracts and especially to render decisions in cases involving the monstrous injustice of State repudiation.

We do not believe in making Jeff Davis President of the United States or a Justice of the Supreme Court, for sound morals, loyalty to a good government, and a proper sense of justice would not permit it.

We do not believe that the elevation of such a man as Mr. Lamar to the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States is designed to make "treason odious" but rather to make it both honorable and profitable.

We do not believe it is safe to trust Mr. Lamar as a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States for another important reason—viz., as one of the original secessionists he, of course, justified the rebellion, and claimed the right to hold property in slaves and the right to treat the slaves as property. There is no evidence whatever that he has repented, or changed his views one whit. Now if he were on the Supreme Bench and the question should come before the Court as to the constitutionality of any new act of Congress which a Democratic administration might pass, authorizing full compensation, principal and interest, to be made to former slave owners, Mr. Lamar, it is believed, would again violate his oath, again trample on the Constitution, again join heartily with others to do a monstrous wrong, a wrong which by his single vote might take two hundred millions of dollars or more from our National Treasury, making his act a monumental disgrace to the age and civilization. Oath breakers, "original secessionists," advocates of State repudiation, are not the kind of timber wanted, just now, in the ship of State.

Shame on loyal Republicans or Democrats, either in or out of Congress, who will lend their voice or vote to install the Lamar "brand" of patriots in our highest court of justice, there again, if occasion offers, to violate their solemn oath and unite again with another generation of secessionists to overthrow the Government, at the possible cost of another million of lives and another six thousand million dollars. Senators beware what you now do!

SELFISHNESS.

If there is any predominant chord in the teachings of Christ, it is the exhortations against selfishness that pervade them; and, if there is any moral weakness that principally militates against the acceptance of the blessings of life insurance, it is selfishness again. To the man who cares but for himself, pure life insurance has nothing to offer; it is essentially an act of self-denial for the benefit of others. It clearly follows that no one can lay claim to the name of Christian, who has not covered his dependents with its sheltering mantle.—Emil Schwab. The

MAINE NEWS.

[illegible] BRADFORD DISASTER.

[illegible] Death List Reaches Thirteen [illegible] Another will be Added.

HAVERHILL, Jan. 13. The funeral of [illegible] Shannahan, a victim of the Bradford accident, took place from St. James church this morning. Zenas Thompson, Portland, at the Eagle House, is improving and the latest reports from the hospital give more favorable reports of condition of Mr. Wentworth. The [illegible] of Mrs. Ward, of Bridgton, Me., arrived to-day and fully identified the remains, which he took to Bridgton on the [illegible] train. She leaves three children.

The Thirteenth Victim.

Mr. George M. Wentworth died at the hospital [illegible], making the thirteenth [illegible]. The surgeons are of the opinion [illegible] lungs were punctured by a broken rib. He suffered all day severely. His [illegible] physician, Dr. Lothrop, of Dover, N. H., visited the hospital to-day and pronounced Mr. Wentworth's condition very [illegible]. His family were with him when he died.

Mr. W. F. Kimball, of Newton, will probably die. His wounded limb was not [illegible] owing to the appeals of his [illegible]. Dr. John Homans, of Boston, arrived Thursday, and agreed with the hospital staff that the condition of the patient was very precarious. The remaining patients, including John Madden, of Bradford, whose leg was amputated Wednesday, are doing nicely.

A Judicial Investigation of the disaster will open before Judge Carter on Monday, at City Hall, and is expected to consume the entire week. Eminent counsel are employed and the investigation will be searching and thorough. Public [illegible] has settled down to the idea that [illegible] accident was caused by a flaw in the iron of the broken wheel, which no human foresight could have remedied.

Investigating the Cause of the Smashup.

BOSTON, Jan. 13. The Railway Commissioners to-day commenced taking testimony with regard to the recent accident at Bradford. Several train men testified mainly as to the excellent condition of the road bed and tracks, but no further light was thrown upon the cause of the accident.

FROM SACO.

Narrow Escape of the City Hall from Burning.

SACO, Jan. 13. The city building, in which the Supreme Court of York county [illegible] its sessions, caught fire from an overheated furnace this morning. Fortunately the fire was discovered in time to prevent serious loss. The fire was mostly confined to the City Clerk's office and anterooms. The loss is only a few hundred dollars and is covered by insurance.

FIRE AT PEMBROKE.

House, Store, Furniture and Goods Burned.

CALAIS, Jan. 13. A fire at Pembroke, this morning, destroyed the store and residence of Charles Wright. The entire stock and furniture were consumed. Loss $[illegible], insured $2,000.

A SEVENTH MAINE VETERAN

Falls Dead from Heart Disease.

[illegible], Jan. 13. Thomas M. Fish, [illegible], employed at Colby's, [illegible] this afternoon, aged fifty-two, [illegible] from heart trouble. He was going [illegible] the woods this forenoon and fell, and was brought back to Brunswick. He was a member of the Seventh Maine Regiment.

TAKEN TO WARD'S ISLAND.

A Saco Overseer Pronounced Insane.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13. John C. Benedict, [illegible] overseer, of Saco, Maine, was pronounced insane at Bellevue Hospital [illegible] and taken to Ward's Island Insane Asylum.

RAILROAD NEWS

[illegible] Station to Stop Over Tickets.

[illegible], Mass., Jan. 13. The Boston and Maine Railroad has issued the following orders to all conductors on the Eastern and Western divisions:

"Commencing January 1st, 1888, you will issue no stop over checks for points between Salem or Marblehead and Boston, via the Eastern Division, nor between Saugus or Reading and Boston, via the Western Division. No stop over checks will be issued at Somerville on Boston tickets nor at Peabody or Salem on Salem or Peabody tickets."

HANDSOME IN CONDITION.

A $10,000 Testimonial to Designer Burgess.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13. The correspondence between the committee of the Burgess testimonial fund and Designer Burgess, on the occasion of the presentation of $[illegible] to Mr. Burgess is given to the press. In their letter to Mr. Burgess, dated New York, December 23, the committee say:

The [illegible] amount received here in behalf of the "national testimonial fund" is sent in grateful recognition of your splendid [illegible] and careful study, resulting in [illegible] the yachts Puritan, Mayflower and Volunteer, which, making such a marked advance, one after the other, on previous designs, so successfully defended America's cup against three English yachts [illegible] sent to wrest it back. No event of late years has redounded more to the credit of this country abroad, reflecting the earnest concentration, and [illegible] of our people when occasion should require, forcing the acknowledgement of the English press and people that they have met more than a match on the element on which they held themselves preeminent.

To the firm resolve, nautical knowledge and great liberality of Gen. I. Payne are [illegible] due the first meed of praise, for without it these results might not have been so successfully attained. But it needed a scientific designer to carry out his ideas to success, and in this matter he had the wisdom and foresight to select you as his faithful lieutenant.

Replying January 12th Mr. Burgess says: It is impossible to express, as I would, the deep sense of unparalleled generosity and kindness which prompted such an unexpected gift, but, magnificently generous as it is, I can assure you I value far higher its testimony to the existence of so many [illegible] friends and well wishers.

THE LICK TELESCOPE.

Some Important Observations Made.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13. At the Lick Observatory the cold is so intense as to freeze the dome of the observatory, however several short trials have been made of the big telescope. Tuesday night Captain Floyd and Prof. Keeler saw the eight rings of Saturn, clearly divided. They had an unexcelled view of a division of the outer ring of Saturn on Saturday night. Captain Floyd has detected in the constellation Orion a little star in the trapezium which is the sword of Orion. No star has ever before been seen in the trapezium.

Trains Blockaded in New York.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 13. Specials to Wisconsin from the interior state that many cities are completely shut off from railway communication with the outside world. At Superior no mails have been received for thirty-six hours. The thermometer registered 27 degrees below zero this morning. All trains on the Northern Pacific are snow bound or abandoned. No trains have reached Madison since yesterday afternoon. The Rock Island abandoned all trains last night and up to a late hour to-day no effort has been made to move a wheel except on short line trains.

The Outgoing train was Abandoned.

The officials intend to start out a through train to-night unless reports show it inexpedient. On the North Pacific the storm is the most severe ever felt. To-day was a regular blizzard in Idaho, with the thermometer unusually low. The last overland train reached St. Paul Wednesday afternoon. The officials will not offer an opinion as to when the next one will reach here. The storm is severe all through Montana, Dakota, Minnesota, Duluth and Minneapolis. A special reports that trains due yesterday afternoon got in this morning. No Northern Pacific trains have arrived or departed.

No Trains for Two Days

A Clear Lake, Minn., special says north and south bound Northern Pacific trains are snowed in there. A Crookston, Minn., special says there have been no trains for two days. It began blowing yesterday and has piled snow in heaps eighteen feet high. It is bitter cold.

From Lake Superior to Dakota

BRAINERD, Minn., Jan. 13. The entire line of the Northern Pacific from Lake Superior to Dakota, as well as the Brainerd and St. Paul division, is entirely blocked by the storm. Both St. Paul trains were blocked shortly after getting out of the Minneapolis yard yesterday.

A Winnipeg special says the storm which began yesterday morning extends throughout the Territories. Nearly all of the Canadian Pacific trains have been abandoned.

A Stage Supposed to be Lost.

BISMARCK, Dakota, Jan. 13. The stage left Washburn yesterday morning for this city and should have arrived here last evening, but nothing has as yet been heard of it. It is supposed that it is lost in the blizzard. A stage left for Winona this morning, and great fears are entertained for its safe arrival. The blizzard has evidently spent its fury here. The wind is about 40 miles, and the mercury is 30° below zero.

Frozen Within a Block of His Home—Three Persons Missing.

OMAHA, Jan. 13. The effects of the storm are disastrous. Fred Eller, cigar maker, was found early this morning, frozen to death within a block of his boarding house. Two school children started for their homes about three o'clock yesterday and have not been heard of since. A young lady is missing and it is feared has perished. It is sixteen below to-night.

The Worst Storm on Record.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Jan. 13. The storm yesterday was the worst on record. During the storm a fire occurred in the business centre and required hard fighting. Many firemen had frozen hands and feet. Most all the trains are abandoned.

A Day and Night of Storm and Terror.

FAULKTON, Dak., Jan. 13. The most terrific storm ever witnessed in this latitude prevailed for 48 hours and reached its worst yesterday. From ten o'clock until dark there was not ten minutes that a building on the opposite of the street could be seen. The mercury gradually dropped from 10° above to 16° below. The teachers and most of the scholars of the two lower departments of the schools were compelled to remain in one of the school rooms all night and provisions were carried to them. Ropes were stretched from the corner of Main street to the school house to enable those carrying provisions to go and come with safety. It was impossible to reach the railroad station after 1 o'clock and the agent and several others were compelled to remain over night without dinner or supper.

Two Young Men Frozen to Death.

RAYMOND, Dak., Jan. 13. The damage to live stock is great. Reports of suffering and death are constantly coming in. Two sons of William Driver were frozen to death within a few feet of the barn. Charles Hatch is missing. The elevator of Archer & Howe has gone down with 13,000 bushels of grain and there are other minor casualties.

A Scarcity of Wood.

ST. PETER, Minn., Jan. 13. The last train reached here Wednesday night and none are expected before Sunday. Wood is scarce.

Several Persons Missing.

MINOT, Dak., Jan. 13. No trains are moving. The storm has abated but the wind is blowing. It was 38° below this morning. An attempt will be made to-morrow to open cuts and move passenger trains. There are fourteen inches of snow on a level, and is badly drifted. James Smith had two sons, aged fifteen and seventeen, started for a load of hay, six miles from town, on the eleventh, and have not since been heard from. Searching parties are out. Several others are missing.

Other Men Missing.

ADRIAN, Minn., Jan. 13. Several farmers, living twelve to fifteen miles north, started for home from here at 3 o'clock yesterday and have not been heard from. John Doring, a camper and farmer, living a mile north, was at a neighbor's a quarter of a mile away, started for home and was lost. Fifty villagers started to find him to-day. There is no clue. The storm is still raging.

Burned Out of Home to Freeze.

PILOT MOUND, Man., Jan. 13. Early this morning the house of Theodore Preston, a farmer, caught fire and was consumed. Mrs. Preston, Miss Preston and a servant boy were badly frozen by being exposed to the blizzard and were found helpless in the stable.

A Train Arrives Forty Hours Late.

JAMESTOWN, Dak., Jan. 13. The storm still continues though much abated. At noon it was 27 degrees below. Yesterday's West bound limited train was snowed up at Wheatland all day, and arrived this evening, forty hours late. The Northern Pacific main line and branches are all blocked and all trains are delayed from twelve to thirty-six hours.

The Storm Abated But the Cold Continues.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 13. The storm abated early this morning. To-day the weather is clear and cold. The fall of snow was heavy and drifted badly. The Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific are still blocked. The Burlington and Missouri River road experienced much difficulty in running trains.

Twenty Below Zero and Growing Colder.

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 13. All trains sent out yesterday are fifteen to thirty hours late. To-day all trains were abandoned till evening. It is twenty below to-night and growing colder.

Fears for Safety of Teamsters Caught Out.

PIERRE, Dak., Jan. 13. The storm has abated. It is 23° below and falling rapidly. The snow is flying. There are great fears for freighters and farmers caught in the blizzard. Not a wheel is turning on the Dakota Central Railroad.

Found Frozen to Death.

HITCHCOCK, Dak., Jan. 13. Emil Gilbertson, formerly of Chicago, was found frozen to death two and a half miles west of here. He left Wednesday for his claim.

Engines Resemble Cakes of Ice.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 13. It is twenty degrees below to-night and colder in some sections of the State. Most all the trains are several hours late. On the Prairie-du-Chien division of the St. Paul road trains are suspended. The engines which crawled in from the north resemble huge cakes of ice.

Railroads Blocked in New York.

AUBURN, N. Y., Jan. 13. All travel on the Auburn branch of the New York Central is blocked by heavy drifts between Seneca Falls and Waterloo. There were no trains from the west to-day. All trains going west were stopped at Seneca Falls. Five trains are stalled at Seneca Falls and Waterloo, and 200 men are engaged in shovelling them out.

FIFTIETH CONGRESS—First Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. The bill to credit and pay to the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia all moneys collected under the direct tax act of the fifth of August, 1861, was taken up, the question being on a verbal amendment offered by Mr. Hoar.

Mr. Chandler moved to recommit the bill.

The above mentioned bill was then laid aside.

In the Senate this afternoon Mr. Riddleberger moved to proceed to executive business in order to stop the discussion on the bill to credit and pay to the several States, Territories and District of Columbia all moneys collected under the District tax law of the fifth of August, 1861. Mr. Riddleberger was proceeding to state his understanding of the agreement to do so to-day, when he was informed by the presiding officer that debate was not in order. Mr. Riddleberger demanded the yeas and nays on his motion. The motion was rejected, 20 to 26, a party vote except that Mr. Riddleberger voted with the Democrats.

After some remarks by Mr. Call, Mr. Riddleberger renewed his motion to proceed to executive business. The motion was again defeated, 26 to 27, Mr. Riddleberger again voting with the Democrats.

Mr. Vance proceeded to address the Senate on the resolution offered by Mr. Brown proposing to abolish Internal Revenue taxation. Mr. Vance favored a reduction of the tariff taxes and the tax on whiskey. He proceeded, with much detail, to illustrate many inconsistencies in the tariff, particularly as bearing against articles consumed by the poor and in favor of those consumed by the rich. He declared that the central theory of the tariff was iniquity, and he was opposed to the whole thing. He should not vote to put anything on the free list the tax on which was pure revenue, but should strive earnestly to reduce taxation on the necessaries of life. He should discriminate in nothing except against luxuries, and in favor of the helpless.

The resolution was laid aside.

Mr. Blair's education bill was taken up and a constitutional argument made against it by Mr. Gray. In the course of his argument, Mr. Gray asked what truth had been so clearly established during the last century as this—that the greatest measure of liberty and the highest type of citizenship and civilization had been achieved and maintained by local self-government. This was an educating influence which the bill ignored and tended to destroy. The real danger to the Republic was not in illiteracy but in such bills as this, directed against the experiment of self-government.

The bill went over as unfinished business. The Senate, at 4.35, adjourned till Monday.

House.

The bill relating to permissible marks of writing or printing on second, third and fourth class mail matter was passed.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the private calendar.

The afternoon was consumed in a discussion of two bills of a private character, one to carry out the findings of the Court of Claims in the case of James H. Ayers, and one referring to the Court of Claims, the claim of the owners of steamer "Intonton."

When the committee rose, the former bill was passed. No action was taken on the latter.

Mr. Morrow, of California, from the committee on Foreign Affairs reported a joint resolution appropriating $50,000 to enable the Government to participate in the International Exhibition at Melbourne, April, 1888; report to the committee of the whole.

The House, at 5.15, adjourned.

BRADFORD, Vt., Jan. 13. The Vermont copper mines were bid off at auction yesterday by F. M. F. Casein, of New York, for $30,000. Two thousand dollars was put up as a forfeit. Mr. Casein was manager of the Vermont Copper Company in 1882. The property includes 1,200 acres of land, and extensive sulphuret of copper mine, capable of producing four million pounds of copper per acre, and, at one time, the second mine in productiveness in the United States; twenty-four smelting furnaces in the building, seven hundred feet long; concentration mill, eight dwelling houses, store, saw mill and twenty other buildings; a 250 horsepower hoisting engine; four small engines and an immense amount of machinery, tools, etc. In 1880 $1,000,000 was offered for the property. It then employed seven hundred hands. Mr. Casein proposes to start mining as soon as the water is pumped out of the mine. There is great rejoicing at Ely and West Fairlee.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Sketch of the Last Victim of the Accident.

DOVER, Jan. 13. Mr. George B. Weymouth, the last victim of the Bradford disaster, was fifty-eight years old, was educated in the common schools of his native town, Milton, N. H., taught school there three years, learned shoemaking, came to Dover thirty years ago and began shoe manufacturing. In 1873 he was worth $75,000. The next year by the depreciation of real estate and the falling off of business he failed. Turning every dollar over to his creditors he began manufacturing again and leaves $40,000. He was an active Democrat, a Representative to the Legislature in 1873-4 and candidate for mayor three times. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter. There was a labor trouble in his factory. The bottomers struck and he refused to yield. It is feared that his death will cause the shutting down of the factory, which employed many hands.

A GANG OF ROBBERS

Broken Up and the Entire Thirteen Arrested.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 13. Detectives last week arrested Jones Slater, near Texarkana, who confessed and gave the names of thirteen men connected with the robbery at Deming, N. M., and the ones near Houston, Tex., and Genoa, Ark. The leader of the gang was Rube Burrows, at present with his brother, James Burrows, in Alabama. Four of the gang are in Missouri, two in Texas and two in Tennessee. Requisitions were obtained for all last week. Detectives located the men at different points and yesterday all were arrested. Slater will identify and testify against the men in the hope of gaining his own liberty. He told where $30,000 and other valuables were hidden, but only a portion was recovered.

LABOR MATTERS.

A Strike of Lasters at North Adams.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 13. Forty lasters in Sampson's shoe shop, North Adams, struck Thursday night, the employers having refused to adopt the union schedule. The firm refuses concession and serious trouble is anticipated.

PERILS OF THE RAIL.

Another Express Train Leaves the Rails.

An Express Train Collides with a Freight.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 13. The fast express from the west on the Fitchburg line, due at Mechanicsville at 5.20 A. M., was thrown from the track near Jonesville, a small station midway between Rotterdam and Mechanicsville, while running thirty miles an hour, by the spreading of the rails. The entire train, consisting of baggage, express, sleeper and two coaches, left the track and went down a low embankment. No one was seriously hurt, save the baggage man, who sustained a dislocated shoulder and badly bruised hands.

Terrific Collision of Freight and Express Trains.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 13. The New York limited vestibule express east, on the Fort Wayne Road, met with a serious accident this morning at Rochester, Pa. The train was running at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour when it collided with a freight train of forty cars going west. The engineers and firemen of both trains jumped and one of them was badly injured. The trains came together with a terrific crash, both engines being wrecked, while the baggage cars of the limited and four freight cars were piled up in a heap. The passengers in the limited were knocked about in a most promiscuous manner, but all of them escaped with a few bruises.

Maine Customs Officers.

The Secretary of the Treasury has informed Congressman Dingley that the Special Agent of the Treasury has recommended a modification of his recent order so far as to give two additional Deputies for the Belfast District, one to be stationed at Camden and one at North Haven; one additional Deputy for the Wiscasset District, to be stationed at Boothbay, and one additional Deputy for the Waldoboro District, to be stationed as determined hereafter. Mr. Dingley said that these would still leave some sub-ports unprovided for in both the Waldoboro and the Belfast Districts in Lincoln and Knox counties, but he asked that the force be made sufficient to give the same customs conveniences to each port and sub-port as the public had before the recent order was issued, giving the Secretary facts relating to each port. The Secretary intimated that he would at once increase the force so far as decided on, and if they proved insufficient to accommodate the public, he would consider the matter hereafter.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEP'T, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER
Washington, D. C., January 14—1 A. M.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Rev. J. E. Adams will preach in the Congregational church at Waterville tomorrow.

The night force of the WHIG is indebted to the members of Daughters of Rebekah Lodge, for some nice refreshments.

Prof. Carl Braun goes to-day to Augusta to lecture before the Capital Grange, in Grand Army Hall, on "Insects Injurious to Vegetation."

The Merchants' Insurance Company has just received a new record of American and Foreign shipping, containing the latest records of the vessels.

Mr. M. H. Andrews will form a class for advanced pupils in dancing, on Thursday evening, 24th instant, to practice the latest dances and the German.

The Directors of the Second National Bank have chosen the following officers: President, N. C. Ayer; Vice President, W. S. Dennett; Cashier, George A. Crosby.

The Old Town Herald, a new weekly paper published by the Union Publishing Company, made its first appearance last night from its rooms on Exchange street.

The four arc electric lights are now running at the Maine Central depot which is excellently lighted by them, to the satisfaction of railroad officials and travellers.

Messrs. R. B. Hall and Henry Whitmore of this city will furnish music for a series of dances that are soon to be given in Orono under the management of Mr. C. L. Howes.

The teachers' Bible class meets this afternoon at four o'clock in the parlor of the First Baptist church. The subject for to-day is "Jesus walking on the Sea." All made welcome.

The Maine Hotel Men's Association will hold a meeting in this city on Thursday, January 19th, probably in City Hall. Representatives from most of the hotels in the State are expected to be present.

Mr. G. W. Snow, clerk of the Water Board, has already collected this month dues amounting to $2,526, which is an advance of nearly $2,000 over the amount taken at the same time last year.

The funeral services of the late Hon. Gorham L. Boynton, will be held at his late residence on the corner of Court and Boynton streets to-morrow afternoon at 1.30 o'clock. The burial will be private.

We have received a neat little pocket size business exhibit representing the manufacturing, mercantile and general interests of Lewiston, published under the direction of the Lewiston Board of Trade.

Chesuncook dam has been completed in a very substantial manner and a good piece of work has been done upon it. Ripogenus dam will be completed in about a month and there is now a crew of thirty men at work upon it.

The Penobscot Farmer's Club will meet at Holden Town Hall this forenoon at ten o'clock, and all interested in agricultural pursuits are cordially invited to attend. A picnic dinner will be served. The meeting is expected to be profitable and pleasant in its results.

Master Howard Sawyer met with a severe accident yesterday after the forenoon session of school. One of his companions with whom he was scuffling tripped him and he fell, breaking his right arm above the wrist. The fracture was quite a bad one and was reduced by a physician.

The High School scholars are thinking of giving an entertainment soon, to consist of a play, tableaux, music, etc. Nothing definite has been done concerning the event. If they decide to give it as proposed the affair would undoubtedly be liberally patronized.

The Happy Hour Society met Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. John Andrews in West Bangor. A very pleasant programme of music and readings was given, and the evening was a very enjoyable one. The meetings are held for the benefit of the West Bangor Chapel Society.

Yesterday morning about seven o'clock, an alarm of fire was sounded, and the department responded with its usual celerity finding the cause to be a chimney burning out on the residence of Mr. Gilman Cram on Palm street. The services of the firemen were not needed and it was not necessary to throw any water upon the house.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Harlow arrived in this city yesterday morning from Chicago with the remains of their daughter. They went at once to Winterport where services were held in the afternoon. The body will be placed in the family vault at Winterport. Mr. and Mrs. Harlow will remain until Monday when they will take their departure.

Either by accident or design, many believe the latter, a long piece of twine became fixed in such a position on Kenduskeag bridge last evening that several persons were tripped up by it. It is believed to have been the work of some mischievous boys. Officer Loftus discovered and destroyed the snare but failed to find the snarers.

Mr. Martin Norton has begun cutting the ice for the Boston and Bangor Steamship Company on the field opposite the company's wharf, and one house has been nearly filled with a fine quality of thick ice. Mr. F. W. Dougherty is to cut the ice for the Bar Harbor Steamship Company and has begun scraping the field marked out opposite the ferry way.

Sargents' Sons put into their house in Brewer, Thursday and yesterday, 1,000 tons of ice on each day, and some lively work is being done by the large crew of men on their field. They will house 20,000 tons this season. They had only a small amount left over from last year, and will fill up their house this winter with a splendid quality of ice.

The concert which was to have been given by the Apollo Quartette on the 25th of this month, has been postponed to February 16th, on account of the engagement of the Gilbert Opera Company at the Opera House for the week, beginning on the 23d of this month. The Quartette will render some excellent music, including new selections, at the concert.

It has not been exactly determined as yet what amount was cleared from the presentation of the cosmorama, under the auspices of the ladies of St. John's Episcopal Church Society, as all of the bills have not been settled, but it is expected that it will be between $200 and $300. No expense has been spared to make the event a success in every particular, and that it has been so, is the verdict of all.

The new dam at Great Works opposite the mills of L. & F. H. Strickland and W. T. Pearson, and which has been completed but a short time, is a very substantial structure and some very good work has been done upon it. Mr. Emery, of Waterville, has had charge of the building and has had a crew, which most of the time numbered seventy-five men, at work for a number of months. It is built to last and will undoubtedly do so.

The Hamlin Rifles gave the second assembly in their new course last evening in the armory, and the attendance was very good upon the occasion. The dance programme contained sixteen well arranged dances, and these were enjoyed until a late hour. Messrs. Howard, Delaney and Kempton furnished the music. At intermission supper was served at the restaurant of Jacques & Buzzell. The affair was a pleasant and successful one.

A well known citizen of Wellington, Mr. Roscoe Lord, hung himself last Monday, probably in a fit of despondency occasioned by poor health, debt, or both. Monday forenoon he went to the barn and shutting the door after him, proceeded to throw a rope over a beam and hang himself. Some time after his little daughter went to the barn to feed the hens and found her father hanging, life being extinct.

Snow began falling early yesterday forenoon and continued slightly at intervals until afternoon, when it began in earnest. There was no change until after seven o'clock, when it rained slightly. This afterwards gave place to snow, which fell in small quantities most of the night. Although only about an inch fell it will improve the sleighing on the country roads, which were in rather poor condition in some places where there was no foundation of ice.

A popular concert is announced for next Tuesday evening, at City Hall, at which the following talent will appear: Miss Dora Wiley and Miss Helen A. Friend, (first appearance,) sopranos; Apollo Quartette, vocalists; Mr. Ed. Adams, cornetist; and Miss Annie Wasgatt, accompanist. Miss Wiley's reputation as a singer is too well established to need any recommendation to a Bangor audience, and there will be much interest in the debut of Miss Friend as a vocalist. The other talent announced will fill out an excellent entertainment.

Capt. Thomas M. Nicholson, of Bucksport, is having a three-masted fishing schooner of 250 tons built in Essex, Mass., for use next season at Grand Banks. The vessel will be added to the fleet of three vessels already owned by him, and is the largest among the number. Captain Nicholson does a very large business in fish, and is one of the heaviest operators at Grand Banks. He has been very successful in that line, and the season of 1887 was a very profitable one, as plenty of fish were caught and sales were large, at a good price.

A DEXTER MAN'S EXPERIENCE. Mr. James Dawson, superintendent in the Dexter woolen mills, was on board the train which left the track at Haverhill, last Tuesday. He arrived at Dexter, Wednesday evening, says the Gazette, and was quite badly injured, although not seriously. He was sitting near the middle of the smoking car, and when the car stopped pitched heels over head three or four times as near as he can calculate, landing against the forward end of the car. The bones of his right shoulder were very severely wrenched, the left arm badly bruised, and the right knee somewhat disabled, besides a general shaking up from which it will take some little time to recover. Mr. Dawson says the train was running much faster than the railroad people claim that it was. In his opinion it was going very close to full speed.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS. The officers of Union Lodge, No. 8, A. O. U. W. of Old Town, were installed Thursday night by W. H. Edmunds, D. D. G. M. W. of this city, assisted by S. D. Wiggin, G. G., of Ellsworth and J. C. Wilson, of Old Town, as follows: Foster Wood, P. M. W.; E. A. Allen, M. W., Percy Fellows, Foreman; D. A. Derr, Overseer; Dr. B. F. Small, Recorder; C. W. Bosworth, Financier, John Farrell, Receiver; C. O. Lancaster, Guide; S. O. Howard, I. W.; Jere Shea, O. W.; Representative to Grand Lodge, John Farrell; Alternate John P. Woodman. After the installation exercises elegant refreshments were served in the banquet hall, and a large number partook of the delicious viands. The remainder of the evening following the banquet was passed socially and a very pleasant time was the result of the affair.

REBEKAH LODGE, I. O. O. F. The installation of officers of Rebekah Lodge No. 25, I. O. O. F., occurred last evening as follows: Ida M. Pierce, N. G.; Lillian Arnold, V. G.; Lizzie F. Libby, R. S.; Mrs. F. F. Phillips, F. S., Julia E. Rollins, T.; Rebecca J. Bowen, Chap.; Emma McFarland, I. G., Lydia J. Bickford, R. S. N. G.; Emma Hathorn, L. S. N. G.; Millie Coffee, R. S. V. G.; Dorcas Wing, L. S. V. G. After the installation a fine collation of cake, coffee and fruit was served in banquet hall by the ladies for which much credit is due the committee, Mrs. Emma McFarland, Miss Lydia J. Bickford and Mrs. Emma Hathorn. The remainder of the evening was enjoyed in listening to a programme of vocal and instrumental music rendered by some of the young ladies of the order. The occasion was one of much enjoyment, as could only be expected as a result of the efforts of the ladies to make it so.

LIVELY RUNAWAY. A very lively runaway occurred yesterday afternoon. A horse belonging to Mr. John Connors, attached to a sleigh, became frightened on the Hampden road and ran away, without his driver, up the road and down Main street. When near the foot of the street he collided with two sleighs, one of which was quite badly damaged on the side. The animal proceeded across the bridge and down Exchange street until he reached Washington street. In turning the corner while running at full speed the sleigh came in contact with the telegraph pole at the sidewalk. By the collision the animal was stopped very suddenly and thrown heavily against Railroad Block. He was stunned by the blow and it was some time before he recovered sufficiently to be lead away. He was cut on the head and somewhat bruised, but otherwise uninjured. The sleigh was badly wrecked.

NEW YORK STEAMER LINE. The steamer Caroline Miller arrived in Bucksport yesterday afternoon. Among her freight, which was a large one, were 800 barrels of flour for a number of merchants in this city. She will leave Bucksport for New York this afternoon when she is loaded with a large cargo, including 100 tons of pig iron from the K. I. W., a large quantity of shooks from the Smith mill at Orono and a number of birch logs from Greenville. The steamer will probably make two more trips between Bucksport and New York and then her place will be taken by the Lucy P. Miller which has been purchased by Hoadley & Co., of New York, for $27,000. It is reported that a new company is to be formed to run this line of steamers. The Lucy P. Miller is being given some extensive repairs and some changes in the arrangements of the steamer are being made. The passenger accommodations are being enlarged and between $3,000 and $4,000 will be laid out upon her. She will be put in fine condition for the winter's work and will be just the right boat for the work as she is of the proper size for the freight that will be carried during the winter and is easily handled.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT. A young man named Levi Newton whose home is in Kennebec County, met with a very painful and somewhat singular accident last Tuesday at a camp of a Kennebec lumbering concern near the North East Carry, where he was at work. He and another workman were engaged in cutting down a large tree, one being on each side of it. When nearly enough cutting had been done and Newton thought that it was about time to stop, he laid down his axe and put his hands around the tree to see how deep a gouge had been cut. The other chopper who was on the opposite side of the tree did not notice the action, and brought his axe down with great force upon Newton's fingers, cutting the second one on the left hand completely off above the second joint, and taking off part of the third finger. The end of the finger was thrown a long distance and could not be found. The wounded man was taken to the camp as soon as possible, and bled very profusely. A physician was summoned from Greenville by telegram, and after his arrival he made the proper applications, leaving Newton as comfortable as could be expected under the circumstances.

PITTSFIELD MATTERS. Our correspondent writes: Mrs. Prof. Parsons has returned from Dixville, Province of Quebec, where she was called by the serious illness of a brother. Prof. Parsons has been sick for about a week and unable a part of the time to hear his classes at the Institute.—The annual meeting of the Union Hall Company was held last Tuesday evening, but owing to the necessary absence of O. S. Haskell, the treasurer of the company, the meeting was adjourned to Friday evening.—Considerable quantities of lumber are now being delivered at the new steam mill of Dexter, Sampson & Libby.—The new addition to R. Dobson & Co.'s mill will soon be ready for business. This addition will add four "sets" to the mill, making it a twelve set mill. It is 72x67 and four stories high. The workmanship and material are of the first class throughout, all of the heavier timbers being of hard pine with hard wood floors. Another addition is also being put on the west end of the mill for storage and to contain a new boiler of 125 horse power. Pittsfield owes much of its prosperity to the enterprise of R. Dobson & Co. They are not people who hoard their money as fast as they accumulate it, but invariably expend it in adding to their manufacturing industry and thereby increasing the growth and prosperity of our village.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF THE RAILROAD.

Death of Henry A. Hart

Yesterday Capt. Henry E. Sellers received a despatch from Haverhill, Mass., announcing the death Thursday evening of Mr. Henry A. Hart, of Portland, one of the victims of the Bradford railroad disaster. Mr. Hart will be remembered here as having married Miss Lizzie, second daughter of the late Hon. A. R. Hallowell, of this city. Mr. Hart was a son of Henry B. Hart, of the former well known wool firm of H. B. & H. M. Hart, of Portland. He was about 52 years of age. He graduated at Colby University, in the class of 1857, and at Newton Theological Institute in 1859. From 1860 to 1865 Mr. Hart was pastor of the Baptist church at Rockland, and from 1865 to 1869 he was pastor at Yarmouth. After the death of his father, Deacon Hart, he became a member of the firm of Hart & Co., wool dealers, in Portland, and has been in business for eighteen years. His two sisters are Mrs. Albion Little and Mrs. H. M. Melcher, of Portland. He leaves a widow and two children—one a married daughter by a former marriage, and the other a son, Henry B., 17 years of age. The family residence is near Allen's Corner, Deering, but the place of business is in Portland.

The many friends of the bereaved widow in this city will tender her their deepest sympathies in this hour of her great affliction.

D. D. G. M. W. Cushing publicly installed the officers elect of Protection Lodge, A. O. U. W., Monday evening. A good number of invited guests were present and after the installation ceremonies and musical entertainment a fine supper was served.

The stockholders of Kineo National Bank met Tuesday and elected as directors E. A. Thompson, L. P. Evans, E. J. Mayo, J. F. Hughes, J. F. Arnold, C. C. Hall, Henry Hudson and J. H. Eveleth. At a meeting of the directors E. A. Thompson was elected President, J. F. Hughes Vice-President and C. B. Kittridge, Cashier.

It is rumored that a couple of men, one at least from the Lake, came to this place and relieved our local gamblers of a good little sum of money a few days since. It is also said that one of the sufferers, who is not generally a sufferer, tried to get even by hiring a fellow to thrash one of the visiting members but did not succeed in his scheme.

George Chase and James Davis were brought to this place by Sheriff Pool for hiring a team of Burrill & Thayer of Foxcroft to go to Brownville, and keeping it several days longer than they agreed to and in the meantime trading the sleigh for a pung. They were also found guilty of being drunk, and sentenced to thirty days in jail, but that sentence was suspended during good behavior, and they also settled with Burrill & Thayer, so got clear after spending a short time in the cell under the Court House.

Mr. Mitchell Ayer of Dover got caught between two logs and a tree on Wednesday while working in the woods and had a narrow escape from a broken leg.

On Friday evening, the Odd Fellows' hall was the scene of a series of public installations, the officers elect of Wonoah Rebekah Degree Lodge, Eldorado Encampment and Kineo Lodge, all being installed. Dyer's orchestra furnished music, and after the installation ceremonies a fine supper was served in the banquet hall.

Ralph Hughes, son of Mr. J. F. Hughes, is going to Poughkeepsie, to take a course in the Commercial College. Ralph evidently intends to make a practical business man of himself, for he has been at work in the organ factory with the rest of the boys learning the business.

Mr. W. W. Clark has returned to California.

A Correction.

[Piscataquis Observer.]

In our last week's issue we published an article in regard to the robbery of I. Hanscom's store, at Milo, some two years ago, and in that article mentioned the fact that it is thought young Clarence Whitney had a hand in it. In the same article we endeavored to correct the rumor about that it was Clarence who borrowed money of a gentleman in Medford, stating, as it was told us, that it was his brother Frank who negotiated the loan. Our article, no doubt, was somewhat misleading, and perhaps a person reading hastily would infer that Frank was the suspected party; but such was not our intention, and here we cheerfully retract anything we may have published reflecting upon the honor of the gentleman.

It is our intention so far as in us lies, to obey the Scriptural injunction, and "live peaceably with all men." Our motto is the same to-day, yesterday, and as long as we live—"with malice toward none and charity for all"—and we do not intend, even in our endeavors to get the news, to assail anybody's character. This being understood, we hope our injured friend will remember that to "err is human, to forgive divine."

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

Dr. J. Stevens, of this town, has discovered an escharotic that will kill all malignant or morbid growths without pain or nearly so. It destroys all poisonous matter, Bacteria or living germs in a few minutes and will destroy a large cancer or carbuncle in a few hours to the healthy tissue so that it will heal up kindly as a benignant sore. If this new discovery should prove what is hoped for it, it will be a great blessing to suffering humanity.

As a matter of interest to the afflicted I would hereby publicly state that I have recently had a cancer successfully and skillfully removed from my lip by Dr. J. Stevens, of Bangor, without essentially marring the symmetry of the lip or impairing its utility.

The doctor has a method peculiarly his own of removing cancers without inflicting any pain. The patient scarcely experiences a sensation. The dread of the operation, therefore, need not deter one from applying for relief in the early stages of the malady—before it has attained an alarming state of activity and growth.

H. SILSBY,
Hampden, Me.

This is to certify that I had a large carbuncle on my wrist which was very painful for two weeks. Dr. J. Stevens put on a plaster and I went to bed and slept as usual. In the morning I found the carbuncle had been killed down to the healthy tissue without pain and it readily healed a natural healthy sore.

G. W. FARRINGTON,
Veazie, Jan. 1st, 1888.

This is to certify that I have had Dr. J. Stevens apply a plaster to destroy a cancerous tumor and that it will do its work without pain or nearly so. It would destroy large masses of the cancerous growth without any perceptible pain attending it.

GUY FAWKES' DAY.

CELEBRATING THE FIFTH OF NOVEMBER IN ENGLAND.

How "the Gunpowder Treason and Plot" Are Remembered and Observed in an English Village—Noisy as an American "Fourth of July."

When James I came to the throne the Catholics hoped he would repeal many harsh laws then pressing on them. This he failed to do, and in consequence a secret plot was formed to blow up the houses of parliament on the day he went to open the session, and so destroy the governing power of the nation. The 5th of November, 1605, was fixed upon for the date. Shortly prior to that date it occurred to some of the conspirators that in destroying all the nobility many, per force, of the Catholic peers would perish. So, by way of trying to avoid this, an anonymous letter was forwarded to one of the nobles warning him to absent himself from the ceremony. Part of the text was as follows: "They shall receyve a terrible blowe this parliament." These words seem to have puzzled many to whom the epistle was shown, but they eventually led to the suggestion of gunpowder being used to blow up the house, and a thorough search of the vaults underneath the parliament building was ordered. This was done, and resulted in finding thirty-six barrels of powder covered over with fagots of wood, so as to hide them. They were in charge of a man named Guy or Guido Fawkes, from whose person were taken a watch, a tinder box and some touch wood. This Guy Fawkes was a man of some 35 years of age, of good family and of a bold and venturesome spirit. He had been engaged to fire the train and then make his escape to France in a ship provided for that purpose.

In consequence of the failure of this conspiracy, the 5th of November was ordered to be kept as a day of thanksgiving forever by an act of parliament, which was not repealed for over two centuries. In many—indeed in most—of the large English cities the celebration is a mere fizzle. A few fireworks in out of the way spots, a bonfire where one can be lighted without fear of interruption, a lame attempt [illegible] burning a badly manufactured effigy [illegible] Fawkes, and by 9 p. m. all is [illegible] this, too, is the work of boys [illegible] more sedate members of society [illegible] part in it. Occasionally a [illegible] will let off a few squibs and [illegible] the amusement of the small fry [illegible]ly; but that is all. There are, however, [illegible] or two smaller towns which are true [illegible] traditions of their ancestors. Bri[illegible]ter is one of these, an ancient city of some [illegible]0,000 inhabitants, situated in the county of Somerset, and in the west country.

It has long been the custom there to keep November 5 in a way that is now almost unique. For several weeks prior to that date the inhabitants begin their preparations. These consist in manufacturing fireworks, organizing bands of participants, arranging costumes, selecting places to store their ammunition and various other details.

The fireworks are principally squibs—squibs of all sizes, but all made thus: A round piece of wood, say a part of a broom handle about fifteen or eighteen inches in length, is sawed in two, an inch and a half from one end. A hole is then bored in both pieces and an iron pin inserted in the layer so that the smaller can be replaced to appear as if the whole had not been cut, but at the same time allowing it to be removed at will. At this joint each end is pointed as if one sharpened a pencil and the stick is ready for use. Round this roller is wrapped a layer of thickish paper—copy books are often employed—and gummed together. A piece of string is then wound about the joint in the wood and drawn tight, and by so doing the paper is contracted and a kind of neck formed. Several more sheets of paper having been treated in a like manner and the whole being thoroughly dry, the top of the roller is removed, the larger end taken out and there is the case complete. A composition of half gunpowder and steel filings, with a "bang" of plain powder at the end, forms the material for loading, all of which is rammed tightly and the end of the case is closed. The head is covered with touch paper and then all is ready for action. It will be pretty evident to most people that it would not do to hold such a firework as the one I have described in the hand and a holder is therefore a necessity. That is made of a long stick with a mallet shaped head grooved the proper size and the squib it is to hold is tied on with string.

Having manufactured a good supply of these weapons, the next thing to do is to find a place where they can be stored on the evening of the eventful day, and some small shop away from the scene of the festivities is usually selected. Then comes the last of the preparations—namely, what band to join and what costume to wear. If none be worn it is only necessary to select the oldest possible clothes in one's wardrobe. And now for glorious 5th. By the afternoon trains many strangers arrive to see the sport, and soon after 6 o'clock all traffic in the main thoroughfares is suspended. Little by little up to 7:30 o'clock the number of people in the streets increases, and when at that time the bonfire is lighted in the market place there is a fairly large crowd of celebrants. Then the fun begins and the windows of the houses overlooking the scene of the festivities are thronged with spectators. First comes a band of men in costume—red devils—and passing round the fire each person lights his squib. Phiz-z-z goes number one—a glorious fountain of fire playing everywhere and anywhere at the sweet will of the holder. The others take it up till there are some eight or ten squibs blazing and spurting away like so many small volcanoes.

Meanwhile another band arrives, and their squibs being lighted, the members begin to attack the first comers with them. The assault is returned, and, fresh men having arrived on the scene, those who have used their weapons retire to replenish, and so they come and go, till from the noise one would think a few batteries of artillery were at work. And work well they do, too, for the next couple of hours, the noise increasing rather than otherwise. Now more tar barrels are heaped on the fire and the flames leap upward with fresh fury. Then comes a sound which rises above the din of the continual explosions. It is the cheer of those who are bringing the Guy Fawkes to commit him to the flames. I need hardly say that at this distance of time it is not the effigy of the real traitor which is burned. The Guy Fawkes of the year is generally some political or local person who has made himself unpopular at the time. The group comes bearing him on a chair placed on a platform supported by several men, and as he nears the scene of his execution he is saluted by cheers and groans and volleys from the squibs. Arrived at the fire he is chained once round, and then, amid one great shout from the multitude, he is committed to the fire, which soon consumes him. The fire, which has lulled a little during this, again grows fast and furious until about 10 o'clock, when, the supplies having become exhausted and the fire burned low, the noise grows less and less and the streets begin to be deserted.—Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

A COLORED BURGLAR CAUGHT.

Paralyzed by a Strong Current of Electricity—A Good Effect.

"Yes, we have had quite a number of amusing experiences with burglars who succeeded in getting into our buildings, but did not succeed in getting away. One of those occurred not longer ago than a fortnight. The case never got into the papers. An attempt was made to rob the office of one of the largest dry goods houses down town, where it was well known that a considerable sum of money was kept in the safe. Well, at about 3 o'clock in the morning we heard a most determined ringing of the indicator in the main office, and we sent out a squad of men to the scene of the disturbance. Soon the squad returned. They said that when they got into the office they saw a big, burly negro at the safe with one hand on the knob, and the other on the combination wheel. But he was by no means in a meditative mood. He was dancing up and down, his eyes starting from his head, the kinks nearly out of his woolly head and screeching like a madman. He no sooner saw the men than he begged them for help.

"'Let go, you fool,' exclaimed one of them, 'and come over here and give an account of yourself.'

"'Can't, sah! Ow, how it burns!'

"Then came a succession of blood curdling yells and, finally the fellow fell to the floor unconscious. The men picked him up and found that the palms of the negro's hands had been blistered and that he was for the time paralyzed by the strong current of electricity. The negro was soon restored to consciousness and then told his story. He had succeeded in obtaining the combination through some carelessness of the cashier in leaving a memorandum about and had entered the office, where he was employed as a sort of janitor, for the purpose of robbing the safe. If he had succeeded in doing so, suspicion would have undoubtedly fallen upon the cashier, as he was the only person who had the combination. The negro got into the office with ease and so rang the alarm. Then he went to the safe and was quietly revolving the combination wheel when he thought he would see whether the knob worked hard or not. He no sooner laid his hand upon the steel than the circuit was completed, and the powerful current of electricity with which the safe was charged swept through him and deprived him of power to do anything save to howl and dance and cling to the door of the safe. Had he been a man of less robust physique the shock would have killed him. He will never trifle with a safe again—that you may depend upon. This was not an extraordinary experience with us. We have caught several burglars after the same fashion, and their [illegible] with electricity has had the good effect of reforming them into an at least [illegible] appreciation of the error of their ways."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

War on Baldness.

[illegible] was delivered recently in St. [illegible] Hall on the striking subject of [illegible]gy and Baldness." There is, it appears, a British Trichological association, [illegible] president, Mr. G. W. Wheeler, delivered the address, and there is going to be, if [illegible] got up, a hospital for the treatment [illegible] disease. War is thus to be made on [illegible]. The advice to the possessors of [illegible]—"when you see a bald head [illegible]" modified in the case of "trichologists," [illegible] whom the new maxim is, "When [illegible] bald head study it." "When our [illegible] appendage gets out of order it [illegible] and symptoms of such." So says [illegible] president of the Trichological [illegible]. Science often awes us with an [illegible] obscurity of language, but we [illegible].

[illegible] of it all is that the bald are to [illegible] of the comfort and consolation [illegible] theory that the hairy man is a [illegible] the savage, and that as civilization [illegible] hair decays. The "signs and [illegible] of such" are to be studied by a [illegible] of men—the trichologists—with [illegible] restoring lost hair. "Why should [illegible] be allowed to humbug the public [illegible] is a true science of trichology [illegible] benefit mankind?" So asks [illegible] Why, indeed! But is there [illegible] elsewhere? The president of this [illegible] which aspires to a charter and to [illegible] body, does not "for a minute [illegible] idea that trichologists will ever [illegible] grow on all bald heads any more [illegible] physicians can raise the dead." He frankly adds that "trichology is a science considerably veiled in mystery." This being so, we will not have bald heads mocked.—London News.

Treatment of Writers' Cramp.

M. Wolff, one of the most eminent practitioners in Europe, has given special attention to this ailment for some five years past, and has been very successful in a majority of the large number of cases treated. The malady is not, he says, confined to writers, but may occur in any individual whose occupation brings into constant play one set of muscles—that of the pianist, the telegrapher and the ballet dancer may suffer from these cramps, or from an inability to perform the acts peculiar to his occupation. The cramps are merely symptoms of a diseased condition, the exact seat of which is a matter of dispute, some locating it in the brain, others in the spinal cord, while there are those who regard the nerve centers as in no wise affected, but trace the source of the affection to the nerves themselves.

Wolff's method consists in the application of gymnastics, combined with massage, to the affected muscles, the rubbing and sometimes a gentle striking of the muscles with a wooden bar; together with regular movements of the fingers or other defective parts, are continued for several weeks, during which time not more than one hour daily is devoted to these exercises.—New York Tribune.

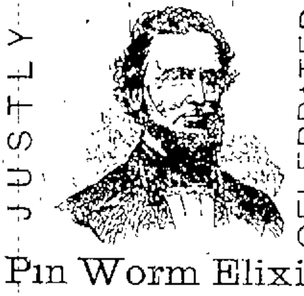
TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR!

A WONDERFUL REMEDY!

MARVELOUS IN ITS EFFECTS!

Mothers, save your children from the annoying and fatal effects of pin worms, by giving

DR. JOHN F. TRUE'S



JUSTLY CELEBRATED

Pin Worm Elixir.

A GREAT DISCOVERY!

It is claimed to be the safest, most potent and most effective remedy known for the child-killing disease. As a cathartic, vermifuge it has no equal. It expels all kinds of worms, and in fact all living creatures that infest the bowels of suffering humanity, are triumphantly expelled by this truly wonderful remedy. Testimonials in its favor come in from all sections where it is known. It not only effectually removes from the system those troublesome and dangerous worms, but children who have been weak and puny for years, are at once improved and restored to health by its use. Being a mild and gentle laxative, it is a corrective of the greatest value. It is purely vegetable and cannot be hurt. It has also expelled several lizards. One eighteen inches in length, is spotted, belongs to the water species and looks like a veritable young alligator. Fits caused by worms and indigestion.

BUY IT AND TRY IT.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 35c. 50c and $1.00.

To the Honorable James H. Burgess, Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot, in the State of Maine.

Hannibal H. Wright, of Lawrence, in the State of Massachusetts, father and next friend of Henry S. Wright and Mary E. Wright, Nellie F. Wright, and Russell G. Wright of said Lawrence, infants, under the age of twenty-one years, for and in behalf of said infants, respectfully represents that at the May term of said Court, A. D. 1885, one William P. Dyer, then and at the time of giving notice of his appointment, resident in Chicago, in Cook County, State of Illinois, was by said Court appointed administrator upon the estate of Daniel Sargent, late of Brewer, in said Penobscot County, deceased, and gave bond and accepted said trust, and on the fourth day of June next following, gave notice of his said appointment, but [illegible] and has never appointed any agent or attorney resident in the State of Maine.

That at the September term of said Court, A. D. 1885, said administrator filed an account in said Court of his doings as such administrator, and notice thereof was ordered and afterwards duly given for a settlement of the same at the October term of said Court next following, in which account he charged himself with the personal property and rights and credits, $128.05, and the proceeds of the sale of real estate, $700.00, and asked to be allowed for difference on sale of personal property and for various disbursements, amounting in all to $94.5[illegible]; that he has never settled said account or made oath to it, nor has the Court allowed it, and that he has never settled or rendered to the Court any other or further account or done anything more in or towards the settlement of said estate.

Whereupon your petitioner, in behalf of said infants, who were grandchildren of said Daniel Sargent, and are heirs to one half of his estate, and as such interested therein, prays that the said William P. Dyer may be cited to appear before said Court and ordered to settle the account which he so as aforesaid rendered to the Court, and to render to said Court and settle another and further account of his administration of said estate, and your petitioner avers that said Dyer has absconded and cannot be found to be served with personal notice.

HANNIBAL H. WRIGHT.

Lawrence, Massachusetts, December 14th, 1887.

STATE OF MAINE.

PENOBSCOT, ss. Court of Probate, December Term, 1887.

Upon the foregoing petition, It is ordered that said William P. Dyer be cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at the Probate Court Room in Bangor, within and for said County, on the last Tuesday of January, 1888, at 10 of the clock in the forenoon, and show cause if any he has why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, by publishing a copy of the petition and of this order thereon three weeks successively in the Bangor Daily Whig & Courier, a newspaper published in Bangor in said County, it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that said Wm. P. Dyer has absconded and cannot be found to be served with personal notice, and it also appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that said Dyer as administrator, as set forth in said petition, has no agent or attorney in this State.
